

SENATOR FRYE
LIGHTENS LOAD

Resigns as President Pro Tempore of Senate

BECAUSE OF ILL HEALTH

It Is Probable That Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire Will Be Elected to the Place—Frye Is Nearly 80 Years Old.

Washington, D. C., April 27.—On account of ill health, Senator William P. Frye of Maine to-day tendered his resignation as president pro tempore of the United States Senate. Senator Frye is confined to his apartments, and his friends are afraid of his condition. It is probable that Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire will succeed him as president pro tempore.

Senator Frye will be 80 years of age on September 2, next. He first came to Congress as a representative in the forty-second Congress, being successively re-elected to the next five, after which he was chosen United States senator in 1881 to succeed James G. Blaine. He has been a senator ever since, and was first elected president pro tempore in 1896, a position which he has since held. His term of service as senator will expire on March 3, 1913, thus giving him nearly two years more.

Senator Gallinger, his probable successor as president pro tempore, is one of the veterans of the Senate, both in age and length of service. He is 74 years of age and has been in the Senate since 1891, and before that he was in the House.

STILL FAR APART.

Concord Contractors and Their Quarrymen Over Wages.

Concord, N. H., April 27.—Committees representing the granite contractors and the quarrymen met in conference over the new bill of prices on Tuesday evening but no agreement was reached and another meeting will be held on Friday evening.

The quarrymen in their original bill called for a minimum wage of 29 cents per hour, but have modified it to 28 1/8. The contractors have made an offer of 27 cents per hour, beyond which they are not willing to go for the reason that it is better than nine-tenths of the settlements that have been reached in the granite centers of New England during the spring.

Conferees with committees of other branches of the granite trade for the purpose of effecting a settlement of points involved in the new agreements will be held during the remainder of the week, and while nothing is sure contractors are looking for a getting-together in time to prevent a strike on Monday morning next.

One contractor expressed one view of the situation when he said: "We have offered the cutters and blacksmiths the equal of settlements reached in other places, and the quarrymen more than the members of the union are getting in nine-tenths of the places in which new bills are now operative. I am confident that an ultimate settlement will be reached on the figures we have proposed; but if trouble comes, it will not be up to us."

PRISON DOORS
SWING OPEN TODAY

For Stearns Kendall Abbott, Who Was Convicted of Murdering Mrs. Marion Crew of Groton, Mass.

Boston, April 27.—Prison doors, which shut for life on Stearns Kendall Abbott thirty years ago, after his conviction of the murder of Mrs. Marion Crew of Groton, swung open for him to-day through a pardon by Governor Foss with the approval of a majority of the executive council. Abbott always denied he was guilty of the murder.

CARRIERS NEED REVENUE.

Peculiar Feature of Decision Handed Down in Portland Cement Case.

Washington, D. C., April 27.—The refusal of the interstate commerce commission to permit the principal railways of the west to advance the rates on the transportation of cement for the reason that the carriers are alleged to need additional revenue, is a feature of the decision handed down to-day in the important Portland cement case.

General advances in rates on cement were proposed by carriers in the trans-Missouri territory, to become effective last September. The advances proposed were attacked by the producers and shippers and pending an investigation the commission suspended them. In the opinion promulgated to-day, some of the advances were sustained and many were disapproved.

$50,000 FOR DEFENCE.

Pledged by Central Labor Council to Defend Alleged Times Building Wreckers.

Seattle, Wash., April 27.—A fund of $50,000, to be used for the defence of the McNamara brothers and Orin McNamara, charged with complicity in blowing up the Los Angeles Times building, was subscribed at a meeting of the Central Labor council last night.

DIED JUST BEFORE OPERATION.

George O. Farr, Springfield Business Man, Had Been Ill Long Time.

Springfield, April 27.—George O. Farr, who has been ill for several weeks with a complication of diseases, died suddenly Monday morning as the doctors were preparing to operate for emphysema of the lungs.

Mr. Farr was born in Chester over 50 years ago. A portion of his life was spent in the West, near Denver, Col., returning here a dozen or more years ago and embarking in the grocery business, in which he was very successful. He sold out last year and this winter had worked delivering for the Springfield market, until he was taken sick. He had been a member of twenty-eight secret orders in the West and East and belonged to sixteen at the time of his death.

The funeral was held at the Universalist church this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. John B. Haddon officiating. The Odd Fellows will have charge of the services at the church, and the Junior Order of American Mechanics at the burial. Mr. Farr was a jovial, whole-souled man, with a laugh and a joke for everyone, which gave him the title of "Jolly George." A widow and two sons, now young men, survive him.

ANOTHER STRIKE POSSIBLE.

Unless Rapid Transit Company Grants Five Cents Per Hour Increase.

Philadelphia, April 27.—An important general meeting of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Workers will be held to-night, when methods to secure an increase in wages from 23 to 28 cents an hour will be discussed. It is stated that the question whether union car men, employed by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company, shall strike if the company refuses to grant the increase, will be decided. The company has scarcely recovered from last year's strike.

NEW FRAUDS DISCOVERED.

Expensive Gowns and Woman's Clothing Being Smuggled Continually.

Washington, D. C., April 27.—Secret agents of the customs service have discovered a system of smuggling expensive gowns and women's clothing from Paris, which promises to approach in magnitude the famous sleeper trunk frauds. Undervaluation and fraudulent manifests are said to be the means suspected ones have used to carry on the work.

MONTPELIER.

City Clerk's Salary Raised from $125 Per Month to $150.

The city council held a long meeting last night, at which the salary of city clerk and treasurer T. R. Merrill was raised from $125 to $150, and the assistant clerk was given a salary of $500 a year. Dr. William Lindsay, who had previously notified the board that he could not continue in his position under the old salary system, appeared before them last night and stated that he was willing to agree on a scale of fees and it was finally decided that he should be paid under the fee system. A large number of petitions were brought in for new walks, and various repairs on the streets, which were referred to the proper committees, with power to act. Superintendent Roberts of the street department will expend the state road money under the direction of County Supervisor R. S. Currier and Commissioner C. W. Gates. The mayor, Mr. Roberts and the chairman of the street committee are to take a trip to Boston to look over the roads and study the methods and results of other cities.

At last night's rehearsal of the Choral union, June 8 and 9 were settled on as dates for the music festival, and the announcement was made that William Nye of Keene, N. H., had been secured as bass soloist.

While looking over some old papers recently, City Clerk Merrill found an interesting document, dated 1877, which was the report of the highway commissioners, and signed by Jacob and Leroy Davis, two of the first settlers. The report shows that 58 pounds and ten shillings were spent in keeping the roads of Montpelier in repair. The entire report was written on one sheet of paper.

Charles E. Perrin had a narrow escape from serious injury yesterday, when he was knocked down by a team on the Rialto bridge. As Mr. Perrin was crossing the bridge, the horses attached to the butcher team of Mr. Chandler, became frightened at a passing automobile and jumped, the pole of the wagon striking Mr. Perrin and throwing him to the ground. He was badly shaken up, but was not injured, the driver getting control of the horses before they trampled on him.

BURNED FIGHTING FIRE.

Stephen Cluff Hurt About Face and Hands in Ira.

Rutland, April 27.—The John Hart place, located in Ira on the Castleton road, burned to the ground yesterday afternoon, the fire being discovered by the owner, Harold Perkins, who was at work in a field nearby. This was about two o'clock in the afternoon and by four o'clock the house and four barns, with the exception of a large old-fashioned chimney, had been destroyed. The loss is estimated at about $5,000, covered by about $6,000 insurance. Stephen Cluff, who was living on the farm, was badly burned about the face and hands while trying to remove household goods. Everything was a total loss. Mr. Perkins bought the place about two years ago. Three calves and two pigs were burned to death. The house was situated too far from the railroad to have caught from a spark and the forest fires which are raging in this vicinity were not close enough to set it on fire.

$200,000 FIRE IN CAR SHOPS TODAY

Blacksmith Shop, Machine Shops and Foundry Burned to Ground—Fire Started in Blacksmith Shop, Cause Unknown.

Amherst, N. S., April 27.—A fire which had been raging at the plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry company, was extinguished this afternoon, after it had destroyed the blacksmith and machine shops and the iron foundry, with an attendant loss of $200,000. The cause of the fire has not been determined. It started in the blacksmith shop and then jumped to the machine shops.

HIRED MAN'S PIPE

Responsible for Farm Fire in Which Much Livestock Was Burned.

Rutland, April 27.—The large barn on the farm of J. C. Buckley in Shrewsbury was destroyed by fire early yesterday morning together with nine cows, three calves, three horses, five pigs and a flock of hens. It was only through strenuous work on the part of Mr. Buckley's neighbors that his house was saved. The cause of the fire is not known.

Owen Hewitt, a hired man, was in the barn about 11 o'clock at night and it is probable that a spark from his pipe is responsible for the loss of property. Mr. Hewitt was awakened shortly before 1 o'clock by the bright light which was shining into his room, and when he reached the burning building all of the stock was dead and one end of the barn had fallen in. All of the neighbors in the vicinity were hurriedly summoned by telephone and several men climbed to the roof of the house which they kept soaked with buckets of water, which were passed up to them. The fire spread up all of Mr. Buckley's livestock, his stock of hay and farm wagons and tools as well as it was the only barn on his place. The loss, which is estimated at $3,500, is only partly covered by insurance.

This picture depicts the early settlers of New England pushing their way westward to the great unknown western country, showing the experiences the pioneers had with the savage Indian bands that roamed the forests and the many hardships endured by the settlers. The new program of vaudeville that comes to the Pavilion to-day is one that is highly endorsed by managers throughout New England. Both acts are said to be features in every sense of the word, one being a high-class singing trio, the other a fancy rifle-pistol shooting act, that is said to be one of the best on the vaudeville stage. Some of the shooting done by them is said to be almost impossible. The singing act, which is known as the Venetian trio, is somewhat similar to the three Italian troubadours, who were at the Pavilion a short time ago, and like the troubadours, they sing in both Italian and English. The act is beautifully costumed and by many is thought to be better than the troubadours.

It is alleged that the city council refused to accept the deed and was sustained by the voters in their vote to buy the Scott property at the corner of Loomis street and Park avenue.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK
OPENS NEXT MONDAY

Barre Post Office Ready for Business.—Regulations Governing Same Explained by Postmaster Bisbee.

The Barre post office having been designated as a postal savings depository office, effective May 1, 1911, will, on and after that date be in position to transact such business according to the laws and regulations establishing such depositories.

The object of the postal savings system is for the purpose of providing facilities for depositing savings at interest with the security of the United States government for repayment.

Synopsis of the Regulations.

Every post office designated as a postal savings depository will remain open for the receipt and withdrawal of deposits every week day during the hours prescribed for the transaction of money order business and at such other times as the business of the office may justify or as the postmaster general shall direct.

An account may be opened and deposits made by any person of the age of ten years or over, in his or her own name and by a married woman in her own name and free from any control or interference by her husband, but no person may at the same time have more than one postal-savings account. Deposits will be accepted only from individuals, and no account will be opened in the name of any corporation, association, society, firm or partnership, or in the names of two or more persons jointly. No account will be opened in the name of one person in trust for or on behalf of another person or persons.

No account may be opened for less than one dollar, nor will fractions of a dollar be accepted for deposit at any time.

No person will be permitted to deposit more than one hundred dollars in any one calendar month, nor will the balance to the credit of any depository be allowed to exceed five hundred dollars, exclusive of accumulated interest.

The postal regulations defining what may be accepted for the purchase of money orders are applicable to the acceptance of postal-savings deposits.

Interest at the rate of two per cent. per annum will be allowed and paid on each deposit which has remained for at least one year, and will be computed only from the first day of the month following the day on which the deposit was made. The withdrawal of a deposit or part of a deposit within the month forfeits any interest on the amount so withdrawn.

Postal savings deposits will be evidenced by certificates of deposit issued in the name of the depositor, in such form and in such fixed denominations as may be determined by the postmaster-general. Such certificates will be non-transferable and non-negotiable.

If a savings certificate is lost or destroyed, the depositor should immediately notify the postmaster at his depository office. The postmaster will report the facts to the postmaster general, and may be authorized to issue a new certificate, in the discretion of the postmaster general, under such conditions as he may prescribe.

A woman who opens an account and afterwards marries must present her savings certificates to the postmaster at her depository office, who will endorse the certificates as payable in her new name and change his records accordingly.

To enable any person to accumulate for deposit amounts less than one dollar, depository offices will keep for sale postal-savings cards at ten cents each, and specially prepared adhesive 10c postal-savings stamps, which may be affixed by any intending depositor as desired in spaces provided on such deposit cards for that purpose. Postal-savings cards and stamps will not be redeemed for cash, but are freely transferable and need not be presented for deposit by the original purchaser. They may be sold to any person in any quantity desired.

A postal-savings card with nine 10c stamps affixed will be accepted by the postmaster at any depository office as a deposit of one dollar, either in opening an account or in adding to an existing account. On receipt of such deposit the postmaster must immediately cancel and retain the card and stamps and issue a savings certificate covering the amount.

Postmasters at depository offices must deposit daily all moneys received by them on account of postal-savings business in local banks, which have qualified as depository banks under the act of Congress and the regulations adopted by the board of trustees. Such funds must be deposited to the credit of the board of trustees, except such amount as the postmaster general may authorize a postmaster to deposit to his official credit to meet excessive withdrawals. Postmasters will be instructed by the postmaster general as to the qualified banks in which postal-savings funds shall be deposited and as to the proportion of their postal-savings receipts to be deposited in each.

Any depositor may withdraw the whole or any part of the funds deposited to his credit, with any interest thereon, by surrendering at his depository office savings certificates properly indorsed, covering the amount of the desired withdrawal.

A depositor may withdraw the interest payable on any certificate by presenting such certificate at his depository office, when the postmaster, after making proper entries on the certificate and in the records of his office and obtaining a receipt for the payment, will return the certificate to the depositor.

The postmaster general will establish other regulations respecting the payment of interest and may, in his discretion, require the surrender of the certificate of deposit on such payment.

Funds withdrawn by a depositor will be paid by the postmaster out of his daily postal-savings receipts. When the postmaster has not sufficient postal-savings funds on hand, he must draw on the emergency credit allowed him by the postmaster general as provided.

Rutland, April 2.—Joseph E. Lanan of Rutland was to-day fined $300, with costs of $10, in Rutland county court for selling liquor contrary to the terms of his wholesale license.

Naman Hall pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon to the charge of breaking into the summer cottage of O. H. Mahoney of Troy, N. Y., at Lake St. Catherine October 1, 1910, and stealing silverware and bedding. He was sentenced by Judge W. H. Taylor to serve not less than two years nor more than four years at the house of correction.

HIBERNIAN CELEBRATION.

In Honor of George H. Sheehan of Boston Last Evening.

George H. Sheehan of Boston, New England organizer for the A. O. H., and editor of The Hibernian, who is on a speaking tour through the New England states for the purpose of arousing the members of the different divisions to greater activity in increasing the membership rolls, gave an address at the K. of C. hall last night on the rise of the Irish race in America and on the work which the Hibernians are doing and expect to do in the future. There was a good attendance of the Barre Hibernians and of the members of the ladies' auxiliary and the remarks of the speaker were thoroughly enjoyed. Dancing followed the address, music being furnished by Bruce's orchestra.

Mr. Sheehan began by relating the reasons why so many of the Irish race have come to this country and of their struggle to gain a living and a rightful standing among the American citizens. He said that many an Irishman, who came here a young man and started laying railroad ties, had, by his natural ability and trustworthiness worked up to a position of honor in the same road, for which he was once laying ties, and there are instances where he has become president of the road. The Irish immigrants, he declared, were not like the immigrants from other countries because they were driven out of their country by oppressive government rule and were practically exiles. He said they were perfectly satisfied to stay in their own beautiful land had it been possible to live there.

The Hibernian order, he said, was started in Ireland 300 years ago at the time that Ireland was having its most direful period. The first order instituted in this country was in 1836 at New York and it has since grown steadily and is acknowledged to be a great help to the Roman Catholic church and to the building up of good citizenship in this country. It is the purpose of the Hibernian order, he asserted, to take young Irishmen into its membership at the time they were about to go out into the world, from their homes, for in this order they find an atmosphere the most like that of their homes that can be found in any fraternal organization in the world. Here they are taught to be useful and reliable American citizens.

The Hibernians in the last 30 years have expended fifteen million dollars in sick benefits and has given fifty thousand to the Catholic college in Washington besides paying the tuition to two students from each state in the union who gain admission to the college after a competitive examination.

FARMING TRAIN EXHIBITS.

Attracted About 350 People from City and Surrounding Districts.

The "Better Farming" special train over the Central Vermont railroad, after a successful stop at Williamstown yesterday, came to Barre, where for nearly an hour farmers, farmers' wives and others to the number of nearly 350 filed through the train and inspected the various exhibits and listened to the short lectures given by the specialists aboard.

All the visitors at Barre were very much interested, and one man, who evidently came for a special purpose, was heard to remark, "I found out just what I wanted to know." At the conclusion of its stop in Barre, the train proceeded to Montpelier and a stop for the night was made.
